

creative director

Robert Georgio's love of beauty in all its forms is the driving force behind a creativity that continually seeks the challenge of new expression. Robert Georgio creations are the fruit of a genuine passion that breaths life into every project he develops.

the company

Visually stylish and quality-driven, Georgio Custom Builders is committed to providing a world-class building experience for every client. GCB captures the spirit of each project by understanding a client's vision, providing superior construction, collaborating as a team, and supporting the client relationship long after the completion of a project.

our mission

To provide affluent Westchester and Fairfield County residents with a high-end lifestyle home that appeals to their sophisticated style and taste and explores the essential components of daily life in these unique suburbs.

the georgio difference

Georgio Custom Builders and Town & Country Design Group work hand-in-hand with the architects and clients to create a unified vision for each building project, bringing a highly refined design sensibility to the selection of finishing materials, custom design cabinetry, millwork, and specialty lighting.

Robert Georgio

The 2009 Designer Showhouse Of Westchester to benefit Cerebral Palsy has been graciously donated by its builder, Robert Georgio of Georgio Custom Builders. This spectacular residence, inspired by fine English architecture, embodies the best of classical design while incorporating a sophisticated style that lends a refreshing ambience throughout. Its large well proportioned rooms, offer a unique opportunity for the Showhouse designers to create interiors that marry both traditional and contemporary styles. "I enjoy collaborating with talented people, and I'm excited to see their work," says Georgio.

Robert Georgio, who is well known for his distinctive style, has become a sought after builder for numerous high profile clientele in Westchester County, Greenwich, Connecticut, and most recently Southampton, New York. Georgio Custom Builders takes pride in creating custom homes that make a clear and compelling statement about the discerning tastes of the homeowner. A luxury home builder in Westchester County and Greenwich, Connecticut since 2002, the company has assembled a well-respected team of architects, engineers, landscape architects, in-house designers, and construction professionals whose reputation for integrity and uncompromising commitment to quality have earned them numerous design and architectural awards.

With all these years of experience designing and building grand homes, Georgio Custom Builders makes the process of building your own custom home or renovation simple and easy.
